

Saturday, April 23, 2016

9:00-3:00

ECU College of Education

What is an edcamp? Edcamp is an “unconference” designed to provide FREE participant-driven professional development for P-12 educators with a focus on educational technology.

- Registration begins at 8:30am along with light snacks and idea sharing
- Sessions are 45 minutes and participants “vote with your feet”
- Lunch will be provided
- Bring your own device to view the live edcamp schedule and documents

Who is an edcamp for? Teachers, specialists, administrators and district personnel that are ready to share, collaborate and learn about educational technology.

Potential Topics/Discussions:

- What is Google Drive?
- How can I teach my students to use technology safely?
- Is a flipped classroom right for me?
- Session topics are by participants, for participants!

Space is limited!

Register today at bit.ly/edcampecu.

For more information contact:

Jason Whited
whitedj@ecu.edu

Holly Fales
heathh@ecu.edu

Or scan the code:

